

SING ALL DAY!

Saturday September 28, the Utah Sacred Harp singers are hosting a singing, and you're invited!

9 am-3:30 pm
Cathedral Church of St. Mark
231 E 100 S, Salt Lake City

Sacred Harp or shape note singing is an inclusive, participatory hymn tradition with roots in 18th-century New England and the rural south in the 19th-century that continues to grow and thrive all over the world today. We're not a choir, we're not karaoke, we're not a performance, we're not a church service. We're just some folks who love to sing hymns together with gusto. Though the lyrics come from Protestant Christianity, singers of any religion and no religion find meaning and beauty in this music. Our singing is open to all, including children of all ages.

For more information about shape note singing, our monthly singing schedule, or our all-day singing weekend (including events on Friday September 27 and Sunday September 29), find us at our website, utahsacredharp.org, or the Utah Sacred Harp Facebook page. Sing on!
